How quickly will you receive a response?

This depends on what has gone wrong.

- We will endeavour to sort it out as quickly as possible - usually this will be within 3 working days of you contacting us
- If we find it is going to take longer, we will let you know within 5 working days and tell you when you can expect a full response
- We will write to you again after 4 weeks if our investigations are still ongoing and we have been unable to resolve your concerns by this time
- We are required to issue a full and final response within eight weeks of receiving your complaint
- In the unlikely event that we are unable to issue a final response to your complaint within eight weeks of us receiving it, you may be able to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service, free of charge

Will you be entitled to compensation?

Compensation will be awarded if it is found that you have been financially disadvantaged by us or suffered undue inconvenience.

What if you think our decision is unfair?

If after receiving our final response you remain unhappy with our decision, you may be able to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service, free of charge.

We will give you details of how you can do this when we send you our final response. We have included information about them below.

The Financial Ombudsman Service

The Financial Ombudsman Service is an independent organisation. They resolve complaints that consumers and financial businesses have not been able to resolve between themselves. If for some reason we have not been able to resolve your complaint within 8 weeks, or you're not satisfied with the resolution, you can refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service.

If you receive a final response letter from us, and you want to contact the Financial Ombudsman Service, you'll need to do this within 6 months of receiving our final response.
